

LONDON ABUSED WOMEN'S CENTRE FACTS REGARDING WOMAN ABUSE

The United Nations Declaration defines violence against women as:

...any act of gender-based violence that results in, or is likely to result in, physical, sexual or psychological harm or suffering to women, including threats of such acts, coercion or arbitrary deprivation of liberty whether occurring in public or private life.

The Declaration describes the persistence of violence against women as:

...a manifestation of historically unequal power relations between men and women, which have led to domination over and discrimination against women by men and which have prevented women's full advancement. Violence against women is one of the crucial social mechanisms by which women are forced into a subordinate position compared to men.

- All women, simply by virtue of their gender, are potential victims of violence.
- Studies show that 73% to 85% of women do not experience physical violence until they have married or moved in with their partner, at which time the frequency and severity of violence tends to escalate.
Violence Against Women, The Hidden Health Burden, 1994 p. 15 (Browne 1987)
- 30% of women presenting to emergency departments with traumatic injuries incurred the injuries as a result of woman abuse.
